This approach has enabled Fikkerts to successfully extend its reach beyond the UK, with products increasingly sought after by international buyers who value premium, English-made goods. Fikkerts are highly committed to reducing the impact we have on our environment. Despite being established in the 1900's, we already compare favourably with other brands in terms of sustainability. All our plastic, glass and aluminum bottles or tubes are recyclable. We use local suppliers for the bulk of our packaging and by making majority of our products on site, we seriously reduce our carbon footprint.

The Fikkerts portfolio includes a wide range of bath and body essentials, home fragrance products, and gift collections, each designed to meet the tastes and expectations of discerning customers. The brand's commitment to quality and consistency is evident in every product, from formulation to packaging, reflecting a long-standing dedication to excellence.

With a rich heritage, a clear focus on quality, and a commitment to innovation, Fikkerts continues to grow its presence globally, delivering products that delight and inspire. Its long-standing reputation for reliability, creativity, and professionalism ensures that Fikkerts products remain highly regarded and frequently chosen by both retailers and customers worldwide.

A HUNDRED YEAR JOURNEY

Everard Carter established the Chemists and Allied Trades Packing Company in Yorkshire.

1910

The company originally specialised in herbal remedies made from botanical ingredients, herbs and essential oils, for example; Cherry Slumber Tea, Neoclenz Herbal Laxative and Nutona. The most notable were BarkOff (a cough mixture), Thermo-Rub and Inferno!

1928

Everard's young nephew, Norman Carter, started to help his uncle develop the business. When Everard retired, Norman took over the reins and went on to change the company name to Carter brothers - still a family business.

1935

The company has always been based in Yorkshire and formulated and manufactured its' own products on site. The original premises were in Frizinghall just outside Bradford.

1948

Growth of the NHS caused a decline in the demand for traditional hermal remedies. Customers started to use products and medicines prescribed by their doctors and Carter Brothers had to look for new opportunities to grow their business.

1955

Norman's daughter Joan joined the business, closely followed by her new Dutch husband, Dirk Fikkert. Barry Taylor, Norman's second son-in-law also became part of the company and it went from strength to strength as they began to diversify into bath, body and skin care products.

1968

When Norman retired, Dirk Fikkert, became managing Director and the business was renamed once again to Fikkerts Limited. Dirk was responsible for the very first Fruits of Nature range. This collection has evolved and been redeveloped over the years but still forms part of our offering today.

1986

Four generations on, Fikkerts Limited is still a family business, now managed by Richard and Julia Fikkert. The company has seen many changes over the years but has always managed to maintain the wonderful reputation born from the leadership of Everard Carter.

TODAY

The company has evolved over the years while remaining true to its cherished heritage and family values with generations of expertise. Today, Fikkerts is committed to developing innovative products that honour its past while embracing the future.

OUR COMMITMENT

All our products are formulated from natural ingredients, utilising various plant or herb extracts and essential oils - which are gentle on your skin. All our products are paraben and sulphate free.

We use sustainably sourced palm oil in our products. Where possible we source raw materials locally. And our bottles and packaging are 100% recyclable.

In an industry focused on giving gifts, we must also remember to take care of ourselves. We take a pro active approach to the well-being of our employees and encourage you to love yourself too.

FRUITS OF NATURE

An apothecary collection with its roots in our heritage. Fruits of Nature is a reflection of the first formulations that Fikkerts created over 100 years ago. The wisdom of traditional herbalists and the knowledge of modern aromatherapy combine perfectly to create a collection which has genuine skin care benefits.

Products are available in five timeless fragrances: Lavender, Rose, Bluebell, Amber and Green Tea.
